Lundy home learning - 26.09.25

This week in Lundy Class, we have had a special visit from our author, Simon James Green. The children have loved reading his book and enjoyed participating in his creative writing workshop. They have now published their poetry books based on I am Cat and are so excited to read these with the KS1 pupils next week. In maths, we have moved on to our addition and subtraction unit. In science, we considered the impact of exercise on the body and completed an investigation into this.

Home learning

A huge well done to all of year 6 for their fantastic effort with their school council PowerPoints! We were so impressed with how confidently and passionately they presented their ideas.

For homework this week, we would like you to enter the BBC 500 words competition - "Write a story you would love to read". These can be submitted on the BBC website here: How to submit your stories - BBC Teach. The deadline is Friday 7th November.

Reading

Hopefully, all children have now given you their homework login booklets, with their Boom Reader details inside. It has been lovely to see that some children are already customising their avatars and are logging their reading! The whole school expectation is that parents support their child to practising reading at home five times per week. This could be 5-10 minutes of reading, five times across the week. Thank you for your support.
