Tarka class learning

This week, we have read and retold our new story Naughty Bus by Jan and Jerry Oke. The children loved creating their own adventures with the Naughty Bus and photographing their ideas. They have imagined themselves as the bus and written from it's perspective.

In maths, we have used our number bonds to help us solve addition and subtraction problems.

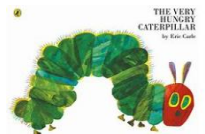

We are learning about Pop Art and focusing on the work of Roy Lichtenstein. Tarka class added colour and patterns to some collaborative art they started last week. They have also practiced using different lines to add patterns to comic book style images.

In history, the children created a timeline of transport - from a horse and cart to modern day vehicles!

Home Learning

In preparation for the Phonics Screen Check, please have a go at Five Minute Phonics - select the ai a_e ay digraphs and see how many words you can read!

Barnstaple Library is running a competition to win 4 tickets to The Very Hungry Caterpillar show at the Queen's Theatre in May. If you would like to enter, have a go at making your own hungry caterpillar... you could use an egg box or tooley roll tube to get you started. Paint and decorate it and take it to Barnstaple Library to be in with a chance of winning!

Reading

Well done to those of you who managed to read 5 times this week! We aim to get the recording sheets stuck in next week, please keep writing in the book to let us know when your child reads at home.
