This week Tarka class have taken part in Arts Week!

We have created beautiful pictures of abstract art inspired by the architecture of Japan.

We thought about what colours to use to best represent our chosen country, used different tools to create textures on our pictures and carefully sketched traditional Japanese temples.

The children worked incredibly hard on their projects and are so proud of their creations. We can't wait to show you on Monday afternoon!

I would like to say a huge thank you to Tarka class for making my year at Bishops Tawton so special. It has been a pleasure watching the class grow and learn each term and I will miss them very much. Wishing you all the best and a fantastic summer holidays!
