Tarka home learning

We've had a lovely week this week! In English, we created a class text based on the story of No-Bot, writing about how he lost his arm and what his friends might be using it for.

In maths this week, we began by exploring doubles, and finding double of an amount. We then started to recap some key maths skills, including looking at place value and writing 2-digit numbers.

In PE, we learnt how to jump for distance and the things we needed to do to be successful at this. In RE, we explored what it meant to belong to the Christian community and the process of Baptism to be welcomed into the Christian community. In topic, we began to learn about the Olympics, looking at the 2020 Tokyo games, and finding out a little bit more about Japan. Finally, in ICT we did some programming on ScratchJr to make our character move around the screen.

Phonics sounds

Our focus for this week was the sound family igh. We looked at different ways of spelling this sound including igh as in night, i as in kind, i-e as in slide, ie as in tie, and y as in fly.

Home learning

Imagine that Tarka class are taking part in the Paris 2024 Olympics! Design a class flag to represent the Tarka team to display.

Reading

We expect everyone to be reading for a least five minutes a day.
