Saunton home learning - 13/12/24

This week in English we have been creating our own story inspired by our focus Christmas advert. In maths we have been applying our division and multiplication skills to different contexts. In art, we have been creating our own abstract landscapes inspired by David Hockney.

December home learning

This week we have put a reading advent calendar on the class blog, have fun working your way through it. The activities on your reading advent calendar can count towards your weekly reads.

Reading

We expect everyone to be reading at least five times a week. Please see the front of your home learning book for the expectations.

Times Tables

Continue to practice your times tables on times tables rock stars, make sure you focus on the ones you find tricky.
