Exmoor home learning - 6/12/24

We have enjoyed starting our new writing sequence based on a Spanish Christmas advert. In maths, we have finished our multiplicative reasoning unit and have moved onto our geometric reasoning unit. In art, we did some more work on landscapes. In science, we learned how to draw electrical circuits and how to decipher whether a circuit would work or not.

Reading Advent

Continue with the advent calendar of reading activities from last week - challenge yourself to complete the short daily reading activity.

English

As our writing sequence is based on a Christmas advert, try and watch some other Christmas adverts and see if you can work out what the messages are behind them; how do the creators share the message, what effects do they use?

Reading

We expect everyone to be reading at least five times a week. Please see the front of your home learning book for the expectations.

My Maths

Please complete the homework I have set you on My Maths.

Times Tables

Please continue to practise all 12 of your times tables.
