Lundy Class

What a great ending to the half term with our visit to the Roman Baths! The children enjoyed visiting the museum and continuing their learning with hands on workshops - see the photos on the class blog!

We have been writing explanation texts about why the Roman Army were such an amazing force. In maths, we have continued to learn about equivalent fractions and have begun to compare fractions. We began our geography learning by creating a model of the earth to learn about the different layers below the crust.

Very well done to all those children who have completed their reading home learning for at least 5 weeks! Let's try and get a lot more children from Lundy Class completing the reading home learning next half term.

Home Learning

Reading

We expect everyone to be reading for at least five minutes every day. Please record your reading in your home learning book.

Read a complete book over half term - write a book recommendation to share in class after half term this can be in any form you like; include art work or writing or both!

English

Think carefully about what you are going to write about for your own explanation text after half term. Do some research if you need to? Remember that the more you know, the easier it will be to write your text.

Times Tables

Learn the 4 times table and continue with the 8 times table. What do you notice about the answers in these times tables?
