Lundy Class

We have been learning to find the mean in maths, as well as learning how to use scale factors with shapes and recipes. We have written our report about birthday celebrations and have applied our learning from this English sequence very well; next week we will plan and write about celebrations of our own choosing. In art we have re-created aspects of the quilt work by Anne Loveless, using brusho and tissue paper. In science we have been learning to analyse investigation results and writing this up in a clear format.
