Tarka class learning

We have had another fun week in Tarka class! We were so proud of the children's performance in our play, The Wriggly Nativity. All those practices paid off 😊 Thank you to family and friends who came to watch and for providing such brilliant costumes!

Tarka class made a Christingle and learnt about what each part represents. We also thought about what 'advent' means to Christians (a time of waiting before Christmas). The children looked at photographs of an advent wreath that they might see at church and coloured in their own.

We had a fun morning of Christmas songs and games on Friday and had a special visitor in the afternoon, wishing us all a very Merry Christmas!

Home Learning

Have a happy (and hopefully healthy) Christmas with your family. Be ready to talk about your favourite food, game, gift and outing when you come back to school on Monday 6th January.

Reading

We appreciate how busy the Christmas holidays can be, but please keep up with your reading as much as possible. Christine has stuck the new reading recording tables into Home Learning books, for the children that brought their books into school this week.
