Tarka home learning

We've had a lovely week this week! In English, we have continued to explore our class text No-Bot the Robot with No Bottom. We focused on the use of different punctuation types (full stops, exclamation marks and question marks). We matched the correct punctuation to sentences from the book, then composed our own.

In maths this week, we have been looking at quarters. We began by exploring a quarter of shapes, and how the quarters needed to be equal. We then moved on to finding quarter of an amount of objects, making four equal groups.

On Monday and Tuesday, Tarka and Barum took part in their sports day activities. They all tried their very best and we had a great time on both days! Thank you for coming. In geography, we learnt about the seven continents and five oceans of the world and labelled them on a map. In RE, we recapped learning on belonging, and thought about the different groups we belong to inside and outside of school.

Phonics sounds

Our focus for this week was the sound family ee. We looked at different ways of spelling this sound including ee as in tree, ea as in bead, e-e as in these, e as in we, ey as it monkey, ie as in field and y as in funny.

Home learning

To support our geography learning, please choose one of the seven continents and research some cool facts about it.

Reading

We expect everyone to be reading for a least five minutes a day.
